

SCOTT BRADLEY

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT | PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL

Buckeye, AZ | 609-731-4117 | scottbradleyunc1982@gmail.com

Professional Profile

Baseball coach and former Major League catcher with 28 seasons leading Princeton, professional coaching experience, and MLB advance scouting experience. Track record of preparing college players for professional baseball, building a national recruiting network, and leading championship programs. Brings firsthand Major League experience and a background in video analysis to player development.

Relevant Strengths

Player development | Talent evaluation | Catching experience | Advance scouting | National recruiting | Team leadership | Video analysis

Coaching and Scouting Experience

Princeton University | Head Baseball Coach | 1997-2026

- Led the program to seven Ivy League championships, seven NCAA tournament appearances, 12 seasons with 20 or more wins, and 504 career victories.
- Coached future Major Leaguers including Chris Young, Will Venable, Ross Ohlendorf, Matt Bowman, Mike Ford, Danny Barnes, and Scott Bandura; Bandura made his MLB debut with San Francisco in September 2026.
- Built a national recruiting network spanning the Northeast, South, and California to identify and recruit collegiate baseball talent.

Boston Red Sox | MLB Consultant and Advance Scout | 2008-2009

- Performed advance scouting at the Major League level.

Rutgers University | Assistant Baseball Coach | 1996-1997

Colorado Rockies | Minor League Coach | 1992-1994

- Held responsibilities for team management and player development.

Major League Playing Experience

New York Yankees, Chicago White Sox, Seattle Mariners, Cincinnati Reds | 1984-1992

- Played nine MLB seasons and 604 games, primarily as a catcher; also played third base and outfield and served as a designated hitter.
- Caught Randy Johnson's first no-hitter in 1990; posted a .257 career batting average with 18 home runs and 184 RBI.

Education and Additional Experience

University of North Carolina | Graduate, 1982

ABCA All-American, 1980 and 1981 | ACC 50th Anniversary Team

Co-founder, SkillU/SwingAcademy, a web and mobile video analysis platform. Princeton teaching experience: The Making of Modern Day Baseball.